U. S., "The Boston Recorder;" and the first Baptist newspaper, "The Christian Watchman," (Boston,) in 1819.

DESCRIPTION OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE is situated between 42 deg. 40 min. and 45 deg. 16 min. north latitude, and between 4 deg. 30 min. and 6 deg. 15 min. east longitude from the city of Washington. Its length is 168 miles, and its greatest breadth is 90 miles, and its whole area is 9491 square miles. It is bounded N. by Lower Canada, E. by the Atlantic Ocean, S. by Massachusetts, and W. by the western bank of Connecticut river, on which lies the State of Vermont.

New-Hampshire has been called the Granite State, from the quantities of that rock quarried within it; and the Switzerland of America, on account of its wild and picturesque mountain scenery, its lakes, cascades, &c. The largest collection of water within the state is Lake Winnepiseogee, [Pronounced Win-ne.pe-sok′-e] which is one of the most varied and beautiful in the United States, and has for several years, been a favorite resort of travellers. A new steam boat called the BELKNAP, made her first excursion across this lake on the 4 July, 1833. New lines of Stages have been established at each extremity of the lake, and an active communication between the lower and upper part of New-Hampshire and a portion of Vermont, is anticipated as the result.

Besides this, are Connecticut, Ossipee, Umbagog, Squam, Sunapee and Massabesick lakes, which afford fish and fowl. Their borders are commonly distinguished for their varied excellence, and their surface is not covered by bulrushes and other aquatic vegetables which so frequently deform the small lakes of other countries in low latitudes. Hardly any thing can be more delightful to the eye of the traveller than these fine pieces of water. The streams of New-Hampshire are sufficiently large and numerous for manufacturing and other purposes. Five of the principal rivers in New-England have their sources within its borders. The air is pure and salubrious, and the climate, though severe, very healthy. The soil is generally fertile, and mostly capable of cultivation. Some of the best lands are those bordering the rivers, which are enriched by the annual floods. The hills afford excellent pasturage. By far the greatest part of the inhabitants is engaged in agricultural pursuits.

The mountains of New-Hampshire deserve attention. The White Mountains, which are the most celebrated, are situated in the lower part of the county of Coos. These have among them some of the highest peaks in the United States. Mount Washington towers above all the rest, having an altitude of 6,634 feet. An avenue has lately been cleared to its summit, which will render the access comparatively easy. Mooschillock, in the east part of Coventry, has an elevation of 4,500 feet, and the Grand Monadnock in Jaffrey and Dublin, 3,253 feet.

The state abounds with fine grained granite, of which large quantities are transported to Boston, New-York, and some to the southern states. Iron and copper ore of excellent quality, are found at Franconia ; and very good plumbago, or black lead at Bristol. Our limits do not permit us to speak of the internal improvements, and of the manufacturing establishments at Dover, Great Falls, Lamprey River, Meredith, Nashua and other places.

New-Hampshire is divided into 8 counties and 223 towns, and these with the population, according to the census of 1830, are comprehended in the following tables.

A LIST OF THE GOVERNORS AND COMMANDERS-IN-CHIEF

OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE, FROM ITS FIRST SETTLEMENT.

[New-Hampshire was settled in 1623, by Edward and William Hilton, brothers, from London, and David Thompson, from Scotland. During the first 18 years after the settlement, the people in the several Plantations were governed by Agents appointed by the Proprietors, or by magistrates chosen by themselves. In 1641, they became united to Massachusetts, and so continued until 1680, when New-Hampshire became a royal Province; and, excepting an interregnum from 1689 to 1692, when the people again put themselves under the protection of Massachusetts, continued a provincial government until the Revolution. Massachusetts was made a Province in 1692, and the same governor was over that and New-Hampshire, from 1699 till 1741, when a separate governor of New-Hampshire was appointed, and all connexion with Massachusetts ceased.]

With respect to those Governors, who have been elected more than once, the commencement of the term for which they were last elected, is given above. In all the States, excepting New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, the Governor is voted for by the people; and if no man has a majority of all the votes in the States, in which such a majority is required, the Legislature elects to the office of Governor one of the candidates voted for by the people. Governors of Territories are appointed by the President and Senate for 3 years.

APPENDIX.

Printed Registers of Civil, Military and Ecclesiastical Officers, though they had been long known in England, were not published in this country until 1767. In that year, Mein & Fleeming, two enterprising printers from Scotland, commenced a Register for New-England, which, the next year, was much enlarged and improved, containing not only the public officers of New-England and Nova-Scotia, but "all the great Offices and Officers of State in Great Britain and Ireland." This was printed in the smallest 18mo. size, on a very small type. It continued several years.

The first Register of New-Hampshire, in a separate form, was for the year 1772, the next year after the Province was divided into Counties. Several Registers were published from this period to the year 1793, but not a regular and connected series. From 1793 to the present time, a period of 43 years, a Register has been published for every year, excepting perhaps the year 1799. As it is sometimes convenient to know the existence of such Records of offices and officers, and to recur to them, the following notices of the different series of the work have been made from an examination of each number from the year 1794 to the present time.

1794 "Ladd's Pocket Almanack for 1794. To which is annexed the New-Hampshire Register, &c." Published at Dover in 18mo. pp. 84.

1795 "The Register of New-Hampshire, with an Almanack for the year 1795." Printed at Exeter, by Stearns & Winslow. 18mo.

1796 "The New-Hampshire Register, with an Almanack for the year 1796," was printed at Exeter, by Henry Ranlet. 18mo.

1797 "The United States and New-Hampshire Register, for the year 1797." 18mo. pp. 88. Dover, Samuel Bragg, Jr.

1798 "The Gentleman's Pocket Almanack, for the year 1798, and Register." 18mo. Exeter, Henry Ranlet.

1799 None is known to have been published.

1800 to 1809 "Curtis' Pocket Almanack and Register," compiled by SAMUEL CURTIS, A. M., of Amherst, was published in 18mo. from 1800 to 1809, inclusive. For 1800, printed at Exeter; 1802, at Walpole; 1803, at Exeter; 1804 to 1809, at Amherst, by Joseph Cushing.

1810 "Concord Pocket Almanack, and New-Hampshire Register." 18mo. pp. 108, was published at Concord, by George Hough and Daniel Cooledge.

1811 to 1820 "The New-Hampshire Register," &c. was compiled by DUDLEY LEAVITT, of Meredith, and published in 18mo. (excepting for the years 1816 and 1817, when it appeared in 24mo.) from 1811 to 1816, at Exeter, by C. Norris & Co.; 1817, at Exeter, by C. Norris & Co. and Isaac Hill; 1818 and 1819, at Concord, by Isaac Hill; 1820, at Concord, by Hill & Moore.

1821 "The New-Hampshire Register," compiled by JACOB B. MOORE, was published by Hill & Moore. 18mo. pp. 144.

1822 to 1836 "The New-Hampshire Register and United States Calendar," was compiled by JOHN FARMER, and published at Concord in 18mo. (excepting in 1823 and 1824, when it appeared in 12mo.) by the following: for 1822, by Hill & Moore; 1823 and 1824, by George Hough; 1825 to 1829, by Jacob B. Moore; 1830 and 1831, by Horatio Hill & Co.; 1832, by Hoag & Atwood; and 1833 to 1836, by Marsh, Capen & Lyon.

Besides the preceding, which seem to form a continued series, there were published in different years the following:

1797 "The Complete New-Hampshire Register," &c. 13mo. pp. 55. Exeter, H. Ranlet.

1801 "The United States Repository, and New-Hampshire Register," &c. by J. A. HARPER, afterwards member of Congress. 18mo. pp. 112. Portsmouth, Wm. Treadwell & Co.

1811 } "The Concord Pocket Almanack, and New-1812 } Hampshire Register," by George Hough and D. Cooledge, was published by them. 12mo. pp. 108 each.

1816 "The New-Hampshire Register," &c. was published by Daniel Cooledge. 18mo. pp. 144.

1833 } "The New-Hampshire Pocket Register and 1834 } United States Calendar." By N. J. T. George. 24mo. Concord, Horatio Hill & Co.
